WHITE HOUSE IFTS LID ON OIL CARTELS

Washington (AP) — President Truman has ordered the lid off long-secret report on international oil deals amid new charges at a rich and powerful oil cartel siphoning U. S. foreign aid funds.

The report, which may have diplomatic repercussions abroad, promptly became fuel for a federal grand jury which will open next month an investigation of alleged price fixing and monopoly activities in the oil industry.

Decision to lift the official seal label from the report, a year later it was written by Federal Trade Commission staff experts, is announced yesterday by Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic nominee for vice president.

Sparkman spoke as head of the Senate small business subcommittee and as the man whose publicity demand for the information previously resulted in the presidential order. The Alabama said his subcommittee would make an investigation of its own before passing judgment on the FTC findings. The state department has acknowledged that it had the documents classified as secret for security reasons and lest its contents inflame relations between rival oil interests and the government of Iran.

In swift follow-up developments: 1. The Justice Department moved to subpoena the report for a recently ordered federal grand jury investigation of monopoly charges against seven U. S. and foreign oil companies.

2. Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.) fired up accusations of intrigue at the U. S. Senate, charging they form a "giant conspiracy" conspiring against European nations which receive U. S. dollar aid.

The seven companies are Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Co., Conoco-Vacuum, Gulf Oil—all U. S. owned—and two foreign firms owned by the British, Royal Dutch Shell and Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

Battle of Invitations to the National Plowing Contest Is Won by Republican Candidate

Armistice Possible But Date Uncertain Gen. Harrison Says

Munsan, Korea (AP)—Maj. Gen. William Harrison, senior U. N. Command armistice delegate, said today he thought "an armistice is possible but I haven't the faintest idea when."

He made the observation at a news conference shortly after U. N. and Communist negotiators traded acid words for an hour at Panmunjom and made "no visible progress" toward settlement of the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange.

The delegations called a fourth straight week-long recess. Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate, protested, then agreed to settling the next meeting for Aug. 27.

On chances of the talks to succeed, Harrison declared: "I've thought the Communists do want an armistice. It is a matter of how much they are willing to pay for it."

Harrison said it was possible for Reds to accept the U. N. position on prisoners.

Marine Is Brutally Slain on Turnpike

Bedford (AP)—State police probed today the brutal slaying of a U. S. Marine sergeant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The victim was identified as Sgt. Robert E. Wright of Company A Headquarters Battery at the naval annex in Arlington, Va. His home address was listed as Dillon, S. C.

Wright died in Bedford Memorial Hospital yesterday several hours after he was found unconscious 50 feet off the Breezewood interchange of the turnpike. The interchange is 10 miles east of Bedford.

State police said James Vazzana, of Monongahela, found Wright and summoned the police from Bedford. A claw hammer was found 40 feet from Wright. Police said it is possible he was beaten with it.

Lt. S. W. Stein, Wright's superior officer, came here to identify the body.

Stein said Wright was driving a 1952 Packard auto.

Police said two hitchhikers—one a red haired man wearing a stained T-shirt and another with black hair and dressed in a sailor's uniform—were seen near the auto. A general pickup has been broadcast for them.

Crawford Co. Judge to Rule On Baby Case

Meadville (AP)—Judge Herbert A. look says he will rule Sept. 2 on custody of a 17-month-old baby over which a legal battle has been in Crawford County courts for several months.

The baby, Sharon Ann, was born to the Rosalia Foundling Home at Pittsburgh April 28, 1951, and has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marhofer of Meadville since September, 1951. They want to adopt the child.

Mrs. Bonnie Sue Stanley of East bank, W. Va., the child's natural mother, has filed suit in court to have the baby returned to her and man she married since Sharon Ann was born.

The Marhofers testified they took the child for adoption after officials of the founding home assured them the mother had signed papers offering the child for adoption. Officials of the home have testified such papers were signed.

Mrs. Stanley told the court she ever knowingly signed papers offering the baby for adoption.

NEW CEILING PRICES FOR STEEL INDUSTRY

Washington (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization reluctantly granted the steel industry higher selling prices for a wide range of its products yesterday.

In a move that put the finishing touch on the long steel wage-price dispute, the OPS issued an order calling for dollars and cents per ton increases on scores of carbon steel products, and a 4.7 percent boost for high alloy and stainless steel.

The increase averages $5.20 per ton for carbon steel.

Release of Babysitter From Hospital Recalls Spending Spree of Teenagers

Lynn, Mass. (AP)—Miss Eileen Jeffrey, 18, of Lynn, one of three babysitters who stole $18,000 from a Nahant doctor for a New York spending spree, was today in the custody of her mother today following her release from Mercy Hospital, Springfield.

Miss Jeffrey was badly crippled several months ago in a fall from a fourth story window of the Springfield House of Good Shepherd where she was sentenced for her part in the theft.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Frank MacDonald, said last night "Eileen is sorry for what she did. She is badly crippled in both legs and cannot walk without crutches. She hopes to regain her health and restore herself to society."

By The Associated Press
Republican presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower today won a battle of invitations over his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Both were invited to address the National Plowing Contest at Kasson, Minn., and both said they would accept and speak on Sept. 6.

For a while it appeared Kasson might provide one of the most dramatic of all early-campaign events—a possible face-to-face meeting of the major candidates as they battled for the farm vote.

But officials of the contest ruled early today that both could not speak on the same day. They decided that Eisenhower, who had accepted their invitation first, should speak Sept. 6.

Meanwhile, Republican women leaders confer today with Eisenhower to draft plans for a drive to woo the women's vote—a vote some believe could mean the margin of victory in the presidential election.

The general also planned meetings with a group from Louisiana; James A. Campbell, president of the American Federation of Government Employees; and was set to make a recording which will be played to overseas troops just before they cast absentee ballots.

Stevenson, who will make a similar recording for overseas use, was taking it easy today, enjoying a brief vacation at Minocqua, Wis. There were these other developments:

Mississippi Democrats-for-Eisenhower, who lost a skirmish yesterday with Stevenson's forces in the state Democratic convention, meet today to place Eisenhower's name on the ballot with an independent slate of electors.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, began the second day of a four-day "welcome home" tour of his state.

President Truman has been invited to address the A. F. L. convention opening in New York Sept. 15—but has not indicated whether he can accept. He has said he may speak at a CIO rally in Pittsburgh in October.

Truman is expected to drop out of the presidential campaign for a while after he and Stevenson share Labor Day's political stage, officials believe.

The President yesterday told the International Typographical Union he will continue to fight to get the Taft-Hartley Labor Act amended, even after he leaves the White House. His promise was made in a message read to the Cincinnati meeting.

Mystery Witnesses Before Vice Probers

New York (AP)—Two more women, their identities a mystery, had roles today in a widening case society vice probe which officials say may bring more arrests and involve more "big names."

The women—one blonde, the other brunette, and both young—were questioned last night at the district attorney's office in the investigation which already has snared a young heir, a wealthy dress manufacturer, a self-styled actor and others.

Questioning of the two women climaxed a day during which a grand jury began to examine the separate vice cases against Minot F. Jelke, 22, heir to an oleomargarine fortune, and against Samuel Chapman, 56, dress manufacturer and ex-husband of noted designer Cecil Chapman.

The day also saw the arrest of a self-styled movie actor, Richard Short, 39, on charges of living off the earnings of "a prostitute known as Pat Thompson."

A 23-year-old blonde named Pat Thompson had been questioned over most of the week-end and finally was held in $10,000 bail yesterday as a material witness.

KANSAS CITY STAR INCREASES ITS PRICE

Kansas City (AP)—The Kansas City Star yesterday announced an increase of 22 cents a month in subscription price for its morning, evening and Sunday edition effective Sept. 1.

The new price in the greater Kansas City area will be 40 cents by the week and $1.74 by the month. Outside of the metropolitan area the hike will be 5 cents a week.

STRIKE IS ENDED

Terre Haute, Ind. (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers accepted a wage contract last night to end their hectic 14-week-old strike against the jet plane parts plant of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company. A company spokesman said the new three-year contract provides immediate increase of 14 cents an hour for day workers and 19 cents for night workers, boosting basic pay scales to $1.85 to $2.22. Additional 4-cent boosts were given for the second and third years.

DELAY DENIED IN M'CARTHY SLANDER SUIT

Washington (AP)—Counsel for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) lost a fight today for postponement of pre-trial testimony from Paul G. Hoffman in McCarthy's two million dollar libel-slander suit against Sen. Benton (D-Conn.).

U. S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews overruled a motion for a delay.

Edward B. Williams, counsel for McCarthy, asked the delay on grounds that McCarthy has been ill and unable to confer with his attorneys.

Theodore Kiendl, representing Benton, argued that newspaper articles indicate McCarthy held a news conference recently on political matters. He contended that if McCarthy is well enough to talk politics he is well enough to confer with Williams.

With Judge Matthews' decision, Kiendl promptly headed for the Statler Hotel where Hoffman's testimony was scheduled to be taken.

Williams angrily announced in the court that he would not attend the pre-trial deposition hearing.

Kiendl announced that Benton hoped to use testimony from Hoffman, former head of the Economic Cooperation Administration and now president of the Ford Foundation, to disprove attacks McCarthy had made in the Senate against Gen. George C. Marshall.

Until Kiendl's announcement, counsel for Benton had been mysterious about why a deposition from Hoffman was desired.

SUIT FOR $875,000 RECALLS PLANE CRASH

Pittsburgh (AP)—A suit for $875,000 has been filed against a non-scheduled airline by a businessman of Squirrel Hill in the death of his wife and two children in the crash of a C-46 last Dec. 29 near Salamanca, N. Y.

Jack Frankel took the action against Continental Charters Inc., of Miami, owner of the plane that claimed the lives of 26 persons in the crash. Fourteen others survived.

The suit was filed in Miami, one of the largest of its kind ever brought in the Florida city. Acting as trustee for their estates and for himself, Mr. Frankel asked $300,000 for the death of his wife, Ann; and a total of $175,000 for his two children, Judy Jaye, 3, and Mark Lee, 6.

Mr. Frankel also asked $100,000 for a living son, Manuel, 12, and $300,000 for himself for the loss of his wife and two children.

FLASH FLOOD DEATH ROLL MAY REACH 90

Lynn, England (AP)—Police warned today that the toll from Saturday's devastating flood on England's Southwest Coast may go as high as 90 dead.

The latest official casualty figures for the flash torrent stood at 13 known dead, with 28 missing and presumed dead. Seven of the bodies so far recovered have been identified.

But unofficially the police said they still had no word on at least 50 more holidaymakers who were believed to have been in the resort area on Friday night when sudden downpours sent the quiet little Lyn river raging over this picturesque little Devon honeymoon resort.

Mother of Seven Is Slain By Admirer

Kennett Square (AP)—The bodies of a mother of seven children and a man who once boarded at her West Grove home were found in an automobile on a lonely road 12 miles south of here yesterday.

State police identified the woman as Mrs. Theresa Podomienik, 34, and said she was slain by her male companion, Innocenzo Cheverez, 28. Cheverez, police said, had fired three bullets from a revolver into the woman's head and then slashed his own wrists and throat with a razor.

In the automobile with the two was a 10-month-old baby, alive and unharmed. State police said a note apparently written by Cheverez indicated the man had intended to kill both Mrs. Podomienik and her infant son before taking his own life.

The bodies were found by a 12-year-old Wilmington, Del. girl, Mary Jo Haverlick, who was visiting friends in the vicinity.

WEDDING BELLS FOR QUADRUPLE AMPUTEE

Washington (AP)—Here is a happy chapter in the story of the young Army corporal whose loss of both hands and both legs in the Korean fighting touched America's heartstrings:

Robert L. Smith, 22, of Middleburg, Pa., was married last night in the little chapel at Ft. Lincoln Cemetery to Barbara Borm, a pretty 17-year-old brunette of Takoma Park, Md.

The quadruple amputee and his bride met while he was in Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Barbara and a girl friend had gone to the hospital to take magazines to patients.

LITTLE THINGS THAT COST US MILLIONS!

Take such little things as cigarettes and matches... when you toss them carelessly aside they can cause forest fires. And remember... if all the devastation of forest fires suffered by America in one year were centered in one area, it would take you 14 hours to drive around it—at 60 miles per hour. Translate this into money... or security... or recreation... and you're hurt—you and your country. Please be careful this year. Throw your cigarette, crush your cigarette, break your match, use your ash tray. Do your part to help keep America strong.

Grassland Council Has Suggestion For World Organization

State College (AP)—A world council to sift technical developments in grassland farming was proposed today to the second plenary session of the 6th International Grassland Council.

The suggestion was made by Walter B. Garver, Washington, D. C., manager of the Agriculture Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"I would like to see set up a small grassland council representing all groups working on grassland development. It would be the task of that council," Garver said, "to serve as a center of intelligence, as sort of master switchboard through which research, technical developments, promotional activities and step by step progress would be channeled and challenged."

He told almost 2,000 delegates from the United States and 50 foreign countries that American potentialities in grassland farming are so promising that many cautious students see promise of a revolution of technological progress within 25 years.

The congress, first ever held in this country, opened week-long sessions yesterday. The conservation and improvement of grassland through exchange of new agricultural methods is its goal.

ATTACK MADE THREE MILES FROM BORDER

Seoul, Korea (AP)—Fourteen Japan-based U. S. Superforts last night bombed a huge Communist grenade factory employing 2,000 workers in Northwest Korea. The factory was only 3 miles south of the Manchurian border.

Far East headquarters in Tokyo said the sprawling works was one of the 78 military targets the U. N. Command has given advance notice it would attack.

It was the first time the plant, at Nakwon, half way between Sinuiju and Namisong, had been hit.

Results of the raid were not announced. The planes dropped 140 tons of bombs.

The Air Force said all 14 planes returned safely.

On the ground, Chinese Reds shortly after midnight threw a light probing attack against Bunker Hill on the Western Front. It was quickly driven back by intense Allied fire power.

In South Korea Communist guerrillas today unsuccessfully attempted to ambush a U. S. Army courier train on which actress Audrey Totter was a passenger.

Two passengers—an American army captain and a Korean civilian newswire cameraman—were wounded. The captain lost two fingers and the Korean was hit in the arm twice.

The train did not stop as the guerrillas fired several shots into the moving cars. The guerrillas had placed straw mats and metal on the rails in an attempt to halt the train.

Unusual Flowering Plant at Corydon

Corydon — Miss Tresa Marsh, who maintains a very attractive local home despite her duties as principal of Kane Central High School, put in a few "hurry" calls for friends one night last week when her lovely night-blooming cereus plant decided to break all the rules and flower for the second time in a single season.

According to the Webster dictionary, this plant is native to western United States and tropical America and traditionally blooms but once a year and then at midnight. The specimen owned by Miss Marsh had two blooms in July and the present four beautiful white flowers came as a great surprise.

The plant, she says, was given her by the Nelsons, local florists, some time ago and for a time she held little hope of its thriving. However, it did perk up finally and is now a huge plant, with a considerable spread of tropical leaves. Miss Marsh most certainly has the proverbial "green thumb" for growing unusual flowering plants and told friends most interestingly of the nature and methods of growing some of those with which she has had experience.

Summoned by the Nelsons, a photographer from the Bradford Era arrived in time to catch the cereus blooms and pictured them, with Miss Marsh, in the Saturday issue of that daily.

Finely engraved watches were made in the shape of skulls, little books, octagons, crosses, purses, dogs and sea shells in olden days.

Enjoyable Basket Picnic Staged By Firemen of County

Many were in attendance for the annual family basket picnic of the Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen's Association, held Sunday afternoon and evening on Wilder Field at Youngsville, with dinner served at 6:30 p. m.

During the afternoon, an extensive sports program was held with many of the men playing a series of pick-up baseball games, and organized programs for the youngsters, men and women.

You Get GREATER VALUE for Your Dollar BECAUSE OF ADVERTISING

Because Advertising

... brings you news about better products you need
... tells you where to get what you want when you want it
... makes lower prices possible through mass production and mass selling

Yet picture how little all this costs

For instance, it costs less than 1/3¢ a dozen to advertise the big-name brand of oranges. Any other method of selling would cost the growers more and therefore raise the price. Otherwise they wouldn't use advertising.

Trophies Awarded Outstanding Boys at Lutheran Camp

Saturday's activities at the Lutheran Boys' Camp were again varied. In the afternoon, all the fellows participated in a swimming meet organized and conducted by Ron Wood, assistant director. In this competition, which tested the campers' swimming and diving prowess, honors were gained by the Ohio boys.

After supper, the annual staff member baseball game went into its swing, both teams battling valiantly for this year's title. Due to Karl Timm's unusually late umpiring or the advanced age of some of the staff, the campers won 5 to 3.

Awards for special distinction, presented at the Saturday campfire, were as follows: Fattest boy—Jack Huckabone; best natured—Walter Edsall; best sport—Tom Schaeffer; sleepest boy—Tom Watson; biggest eater—Jack Huckabone; shortest boy—Bruce Yaegle.

More solemn was the presentation of the honor trophies. George William Smith, Jr., was named "Best All Around Camper." The "Best All Around Athlete" trophy was awarded to Carl Strandburg. Harold Erickson received the award for the Best All Around Unit Leader. These trophies will be kept on permanent display at First Lutheran church.

After the Sunday morning worship service, the whole camp prepared to disband. Everyone joined together, as they had worked together all week, in breaking up camp. At noon, Harry Black and Chuck Johnson served the last meal until another camping season.

Rotarian Caughey Gives Interesting Talk on Harmonists

Historical facts about the rise and fall of the Harmonists and the Economists, and their relation to Warren county, were interestingly told by Rotarian F. M. Caughey at Monday's weekly meeting of the Rotary club in the YWCA.

He told of the settling of Harmony, near Zellenople, and of the beauty and quiet grace of its church, homes and gardens, and of the ultimate business success of its people in their varied interests. Then came the move to New Harmony, Ind., because the lands in Butler county were not suitable for vineyards, wine-making being a principal industry.

The years the Harmonists spent in Indiana convinced them their move had been ill-advised and they returned to establish Economy, Pa., now being known as the Economists. They developed the Beaver Valley, built the P. & L. E. railroad, gave ground for Geneva College, and became a controlling factor in the industrial life of western Pennsylvania. Mr. Caughey spoke of the Harmonist colony near Tidouste and said ruins of the buildings are still to be found.

The speaker was well versed in his subject and the talk was greatly enjoyed.

There were many guests at yesterday's meeting and a new member, Charles A. VerMilyea, was inducted and welcomed into the club by W. E. Yeager of the classifications committee, who mentioned that Rotary now has over 7,400 clubs in 84 countries.

Miss Sunbeam Is Million Dollar Baby At Four Years Old

A beautiful little girl with a glamorous future was honored last week by John Robert Powers, and a panel of well-known judges. Mary Ann Habenstreit of New Britain, Connecticut, emerged from a group of 16,892 child contestants throughout the country as the one most nearly resembling the attractive little girl on the Sunbeam Bread wrapper. The regional contestants had been chosen by popular vote, in which more than five million votes were cast in local grocery stores. This week pictures of the 51 semi-finalists were collected at the Stork Club in New York for the difficult task of choosing the first prize winner, and the runners-up.

Mr. Powers, America's foremost authority on beauty; Miss Ellen Segner, the artist who originally painted Miss Sunbeam; and Valentino Sarra, celebrated New York photographer, who made up the judges' panel, declared that the race was a very close one, and that all the children entered were unusually beautiful and photogenic. All of them so closely resembled Miss Sunbeam that it took a long three hour session to choose the child who was actually the most like the little girl pictured on the Sunbeam Bread wrapper. After these hours of deliberation, Mary Ann Habenstreit was finally chosen as Miss Sunbeam of 1952.

Many distinguished guests were present at the judging ceremonies—among them Dan Terrell, director of exploitation for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Frank Heffler of Air France, and prominent members of the press.

Mary Ann Habenstreit and her parents have been awarded round trip tickets to Paris via Air France, $1,000 in cash, a Wittnauer "Golden Princess" watch for Miss Sunbeam, a Longines Starlight Bracelet watch for her mother, a Longines Kent watch for her father, a beautiful wardrobe by Nardis of Dallas, lifetime Amelia Earhart luggage, a complete home movie outfit by Ampro, and other valuable prizes.

Seven little girls tied for second place, and these runners-up, who came from various parts of the country, will each receive a $200 Savings Bond.

Following the meeting, judges and guests were entertained at a luncheon given by Quality Bakers' executives, at which Quality Bakers expressed its appreciation for the outstanding cooperation given throughout the contest by both the general public and grocers throughout the country.

At the age of one year, the average vocabulary contains seven words.

PARALYSIS RECORD

There were 79 cases of infantile paralysis recorded by the State Health Department during the past week, raising the total for the year to 213. The department compared the total with the 208 cases on record the same date of 1950, a year it termed "comparable" in the rate of polio incidence. Last year, on August 14, there were 199 cases. The 1950 12-month total was 1,435 cases or a rate of 13.7 per 100,000 population. The department has called this rate "relatively high." Last year's rate was 8.4 for 883 cases.

PLANT CURTAILS

Advertising lineage in Curtis Publishing Co. magazines has been running "somewhat below" the second half of 1951 and the company's estimated paper consumption for 1952 will be 5% below the 1951 level, Robert E. MacNeal, president, said. Mr. MacNeal said the expected drop in paper consumption forced the firm's paper-making subsidiary, the New York & Pennsylvania Co., Inc., of Johnstown, Pa., to announce last week a lay off of 150 employees at the end of August. Curtis tried to find other customers for the paper firm, but was unable to because of the general softness in the paper market.

REMINDER TO DRIVERS

All motorists under 21 years of age must carry with them evidence of insurance if they drive into New York state after September 1, the Warren County Motor Club was advised by American Automobile Association National Headquarters in Washington, D. C. "A new law in that state requires that all cars driven by persons under 21 must be covered by public liability and property damage insurance," the AAA report said. "This applies to non-residents as well as to residents. Insurance companies are developing a special identification card to comply with the New York law and every young driver should be sure to get such a card properly filled out and to carry it with him when entering the Empire State."

WOMAN COMMITTED

Corry Journal: Arrangements were being made to commit a local woman to North Warren State Hospital after an incident in which she entered a local business establishment and took a revolver, later secreting it in the place. Because of past threats that she might attempt to use the weapon on her self, relatives were summoned and made arrangements to have her treated at the nearby hospital.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

New York Times: The slender man with the white shock of hair looked up from his news desk to the clock on the wall.

He pulled off his green eyeshade for the last time, and his unlined boyish face and blue eyes broke into a shy grin. The clock was saying goodbye to the men around him at the end of another working day—it was saying goodbye to him at the close of his working life.

It was a pleasant "30" on the job for Sam Ochiltree, retiring at 65 after spending 10 years as a telegrapher and 36 years as a reporter and news editor.

"In this business you hurry all your life, don't you?" he said. "That is what will seem funny from now on. I will never have to hurry again."

Hollywood never discovered Sam Ochiltree. It isn't interested in working newspapermen like Sam. And that is too bad. For his life story would make a wonderful film. But how could Hollywood dramatize a man whom no one can remember ever lifting his voice, saying a word in anger, or ever criticizing another human being?

One of Sam's first tasks as a telegrapher here in 1906 was to handle messages on the great San Francisco earthquake and fire. On his final day he edited Associated Press dispatches about a war in a place he'd never been—Korea. In between he helped cover or edit stories on most of the great news events of the century.

The constant acquaintance with disaster and the follies of human flesh that make some newsmen cynical never robbed Sam of his warm and steady sense of brotherhood. His last hour on the job he spent to break in his successor—who is 21.

"He's a bright kid," said Sam. "Picks up things fast."

Sam then went across the street to an office party in his honor, and as he is a modest man this was something of an ordeal. They gave him a shaving kit, a leather-covered clock, and a fine suitcase for a trip to London he is planning. Holding up the shiny suitcase, Sam said:

"This ought to even get me to St. Peter without a passport."

The next day Sam and I met for lunch, and he gently objected to some of the ideas people have about retirement.

"People who other people regard as old don't feel that way," he said. "Oldness isn't a particular feeling—you feel the same, but you just get tired sooner. Old people have the same feeling as young people. That is why they sometimes make fools of themselves."

"For some reason people think when a man retires he has to have a hobby—something to drive him like a madman to make things out of wood."

"I have plenty of interests. For example, one of my friends is a religious editor who doesn't believe in religion. I have been trying to convince him of the value of prayer. Also, I would like to get him to start going to church."

Sam himself has always been interested in religion.

"But sometimes you have to have the courage to disbelieve," he said mildly. "I have gone through the whole range, from complete unbelief to working out a faith in God that now keeps me completely happy."

Sam married at 19—the same year he became a telegrapher—and still goes home to the same girl. They have two sons, five grandsons.

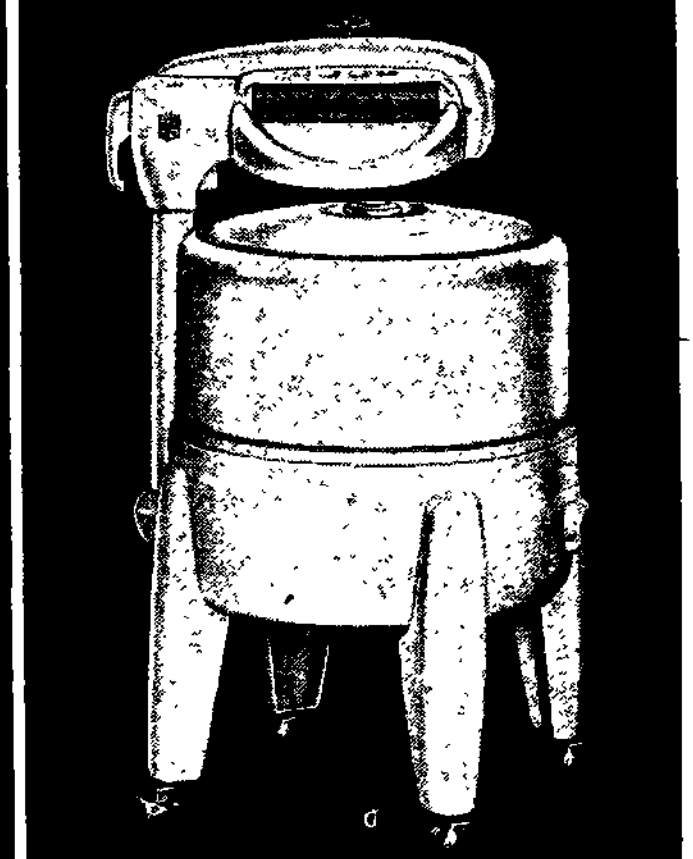

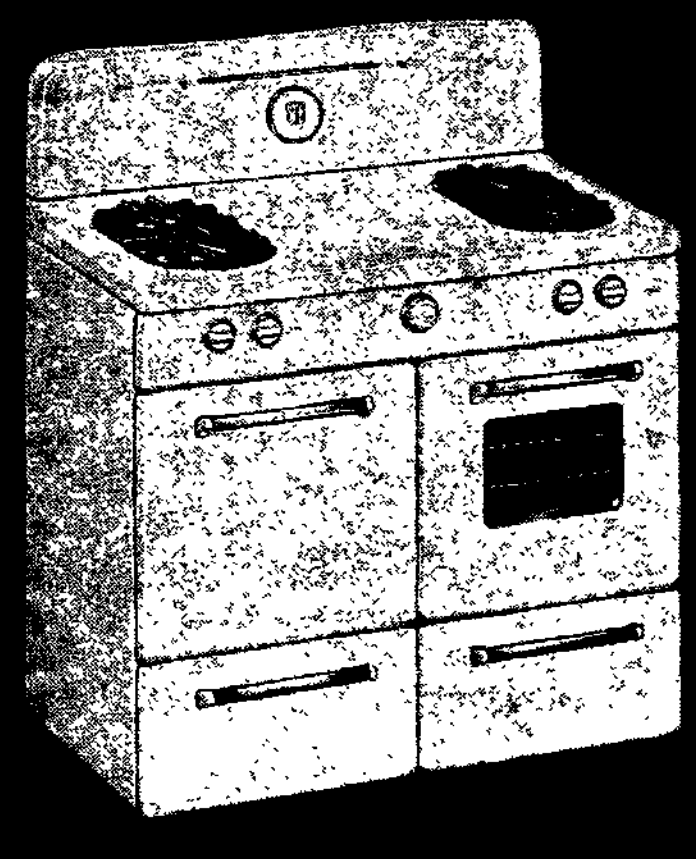

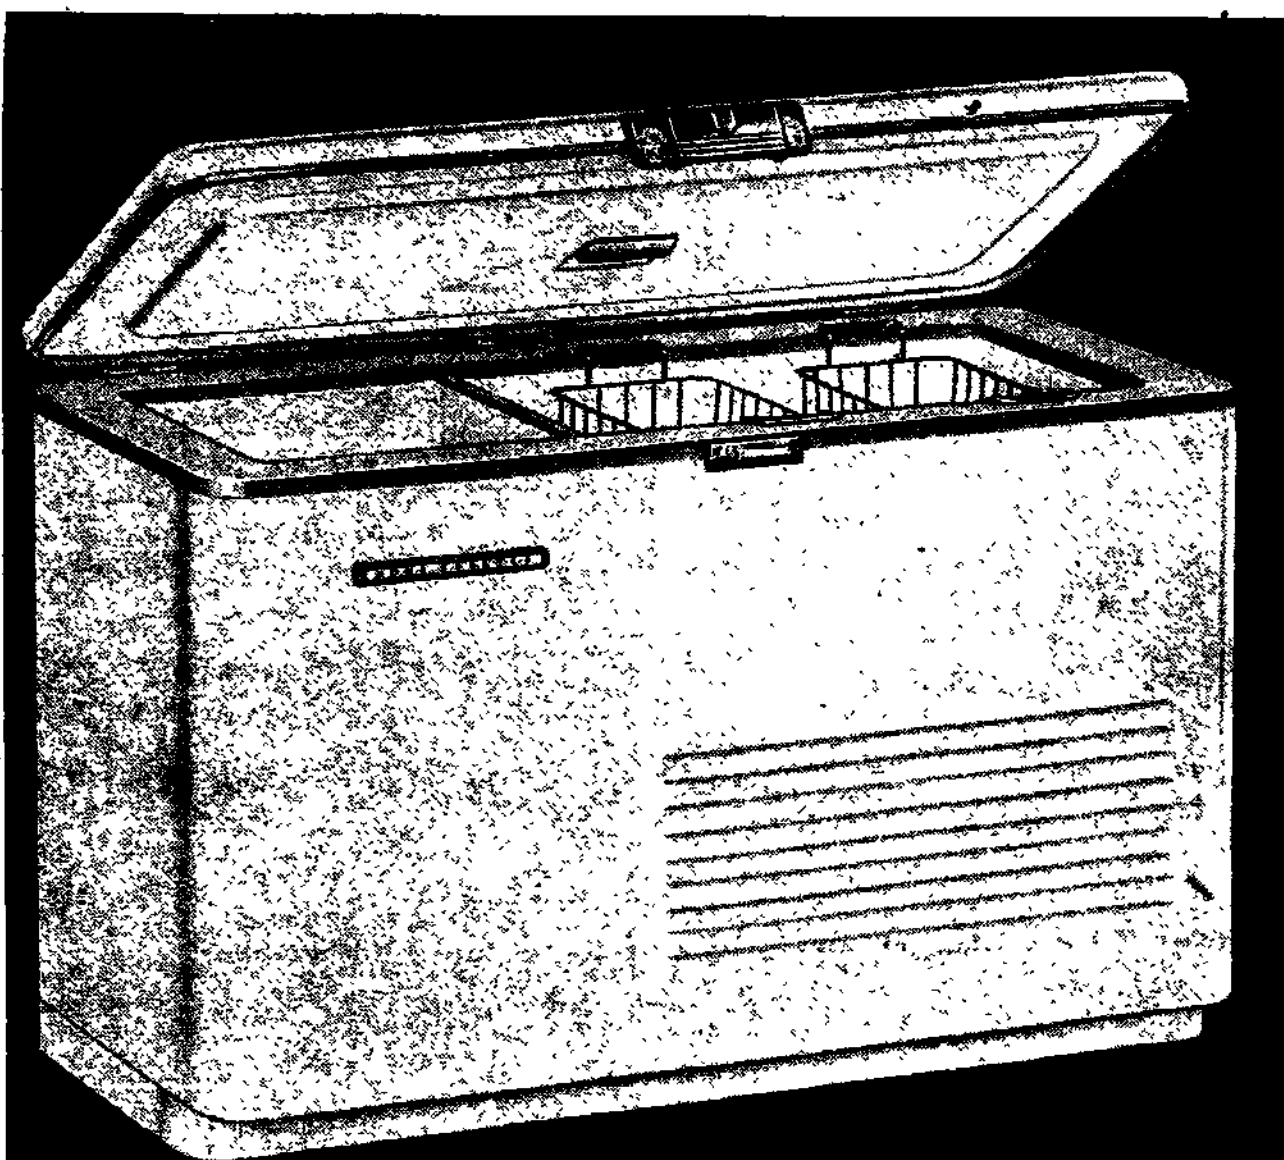

"You notice how many men who live to be old have remained with the wife of their youth—like Winston Churchill," he said. "That is a splendid life. For people to grow old together."

Not that Sam has any idea he is old yet. He recalled that when Abraham Lincoln left Springfield for Washington he spoke of coming there as a young man and said that now he was an old man.

"Yet the greatest part of his life was ahead of him," said Sam. "What a wonderful newspaperman Abraham Lincoln would have made!"

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Lopez

A lovely mid-summer ceremony solemnized in St. Joseph's church Saturday morning united in marriage Abigail Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Bevelino, 812 Fourth avenue, and Joseph Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Lopez, North Warren.

Father Alfred Bauer celebrated the nuptial mass and performed the double ring ceremony at 11:00 a. m. before an altar decorated simply with palms and white glads. Wedding music was by Mrs. Donald Edinger, organist, and Ned Salerno, vocalist.

The bride was attractively gowned in white organdy, styled with illusion net yoke, long, pointed sleeves, and embroidered bodice which matched two long tulle tails in the full, hooped skirt. A lace Juliet cap held her fingertip veil and her flowers were a cascade of white roses.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Sally Sauser, Wanaka, N. Y., in white embroidered organdy over blue, with white picture hat tied with blue ribbons. Bridesmaids, in white organdy over different shades, were Noel Hubbs, Grossette, Mich., with aqua; Betty Roberts, Buffalo, N. Y., with green; Elaine Bova and Dorothy Benson, Warren, with yellow and pink respectively. All had white organdy wristlets and carried colonial bouquets of mums, Miss Sauser having pink, the others, yellow and orchid. Susan Baker, niece of the bridegroom and flower girl, wore white organdy and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers which matched her headband. Groomsmen were David and

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen Ellis

A simple setting of palms and white gladioli featured the Saturday wedding of Gretchen Bell Radspinner and Lee Allen Ellis in First Presbyterian church, the Rev. Frank A. Kehrl reading the double ring ceremony at 3:30 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veit D. Radspinner, 416 Crescent Park; Mr. Ellis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ellis, 5812 Wyandotte, Kansas City, Mo.

Robert Dietsch, tenor, sang "The Lord's Prayer", "Bless This House" and "Because", with Stavroula Fanos at the organ. Among Miss Fanos' selections were "Love's Greeting", "Evening Star", "Andantino" by Lemare, "Schubert's 'Serenade'", and "Cavatina". Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore chantilly lace and net over satin, with yoke of marquisette outlined in scalloped lace in a fitted bodice and with full hooped skirt. A crown of matching lace, framed in seed pearls, held her fingertip veil of illusion net and she carried a white orchid encircled by white pom poms and tied with white satin.

The maid of honor was her sister, Lois Radspinner, wearing turquoise; the bridesmaid, Joan Ellis, sister of the bridegroom, in coral. Both were attired in floor length hoop gowns of tulle, with bodice of chantilly lace, and mits of the same lace. Their colonial bouquets were of yellow pom poms with matching ties and the same flowers were repeated in their headbands.

Completing the bridal party, Warren Ellis, Kansas City, was best man for his brother and usher.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY—Nearly 75 relatives and friends called Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. King, 505 Mulberry street, to extend best wishes on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary and to remember them with many beautiful gifts. Guests came from New Kensington, Natrona Heights, Jamestown, Oil City, and their home community to attend the open house arranged by their three daughters, Mrs. Valjean Barhile, Mrs. Vera Olson and Mrs. Betty Jane Putnam, all of Warren. Also sharing with them in the day's activities were their six grandchildren.

A beautifully appointed refreshments table, presided over by Mrs. Olson and Mrs. Putnam, featured white tapers and red roses, in keeping with the "ruby" anniversary theme, along with a three-tiered anniversary cake and ice cream centered with the proper numerals. Throughout the home were lovely bouquets of summer flowers, many of which were received as gifts.

Married in Oil City 40 years ago, the Kings have lived in Warren for about 35 years. Mr. King is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as a diesel engineer in the Struthers yard and his wife has been an active figure in the Lander Girl Scout troop.

News Photographer Fined for Contempt

Greensburg, Pa. — Photographer Harry Fry of the Latrobe Bulletin must pay a $100 fine and court costs today for contempt of court. A three-judge tribunal meted out the fine against Fry yesterday for taking photographs during a murder trial Aug. 7. Westmoreland Court regulations forbid photographers to snap pictures during court sessions.

Fry denied taking the pictures in court. He said he stood on a bench in the hall and snapped the pictures through a glass transom. His pictures appeared in the newspaper Aug. 7. They depicted court action during the trial of Joseph S. Phillips of Derry Township.

Phillips pleaded guilty to fatally shooting Morton Crain, paymaster for the McFeesley Brick Co., in an attempted $17,000 payroll holdup. He was given the death penalty.

EXPERT CAN OFFER MESS UP HIS HAND

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Maybe you think that only a bad player jeopardizes his contract in the attempt to make an overtrick or two. Don't you believe it. South, in today's hand, was one of the best players in the country—but he wouldn't use this hand as an advertisement.

West had a hard time picking an effective opening lead. The major suits were obviously hopeless, so West had to choose between diamonds and clubs. Fortunately for his side, he selected the jack of diamonds as the opening lead.

Declarer won in dummy with the ace of diamonds in order to begin the clubs with a finesse. East signalled enthusiastically with the queen of diamonds, knowing that his partner would read this as a signal, but that South might consider it an unblock.

Declarer began immediately on the clubs by leading the queen from the dummy. East covered with the king, and South won with the ace. South next entered dummy with a spade to finesse the nine of clubs, after which he cashed the jack. When the ten of clubs failed to drop, declarer led a fourth round of clubs to give East his trick.

East promptly returned the seven of diamonds, trying to preserve the impression that West had the long diamonds. South won with the king of diamonds and cashed his last club. At this point he was sure of his contract with four clubs, two diamonds, one heart and two spades.

Having lost only one trick, South hoped to make an extra trick or two. He was sure that West had all the rest of the diamonds and that East had started with only the queen and the seven. South therefore finessed dummy's ten of spades at the next trick.

East naturally won with the jack of spades, and set the contract by taking three diamond tricks. South is still explaining how he happened to lose this hand.

AROUND THE WORLD

THE ARMY'S EXTREMES—Sgt. 1/c Eugene H. Cowgill of Columbus, O., reputed to be the smallest man in the entire U. S. Army, stands beside king-sized Pfc. Harvey Miller, who's said to be the tallest, during a meeting in San Francisco, Calif. Cowgill measures a scant 4 feet, 9 inches tall, while Miller towers at 6 feet, 9 inches. Both men are in the 8th Cavalry Regiment.

ADVICE FROM THE BLEACHERS—Three-year-old Frank Furiado may be too small to take part but that doesn't keep him from sitting on the curb and heckling as older fellows race by in pushmobiles during the 14th Annual "Anything On Wheels" Derby in New York City. The various events featured skates, bikes, scooters, wagons, hoops and even baby carriages.

DRESSING UP DOLLIE—A real pair of cuties, Carolyn Knudsen (right), who is six, and Carol Dragland, four, busily pin a diaper to the doll which Carolyn brought from Norway aboard the Norwegian-American liner Stavangerfjord. Carol came from Springfield, N. J., to meet cousin Carolyn, who's from Linden, N. J., as the ship docked in New York and the girls just couldn't wait to doll up the dollie for the cameraman. After all, a good "mother" has to always think first of her "baby" doesn't she?

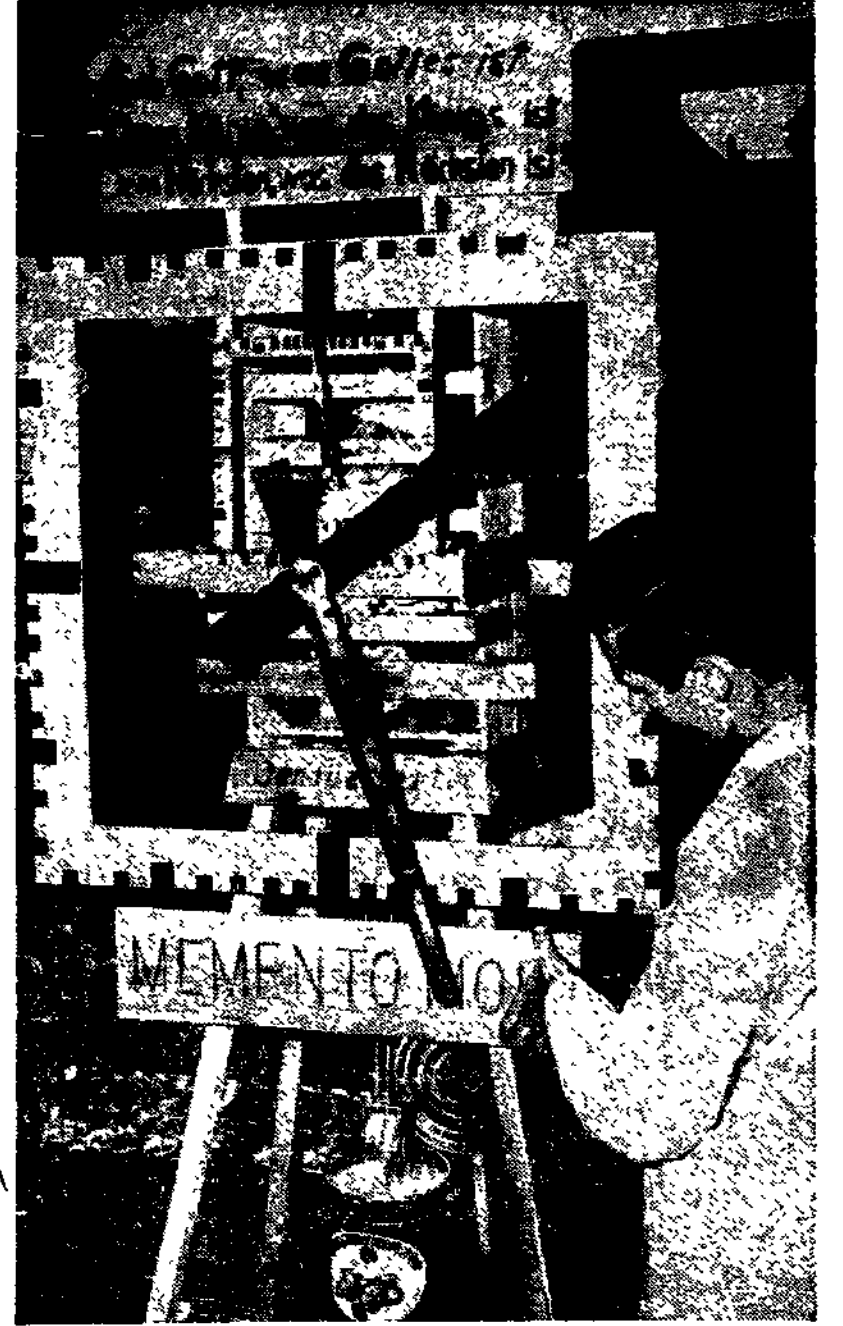

K-9'S DO THEIR SHARE

COMBAT TEAMMATES—Used by the Infantry in Korea because UN soldiers can penetrate deeper and faster into enemy territory with their aid, 24 thoroughbred German Shepherd dogs serve their masters well on patrol missions. Before going out on a mission (left), Pvt. John Cobin of Cradon, Wis., grooms his dog Jigger by the K-9er's sandbagged "dog-

Back at camp, the GI's crawl under the dogs in a daily exercise (bottom right) to teach them not to move unless ordered to by their master. The dogs must learn to be obedient at all times.

ALL FROM SCRAP—Helmuth Mai, a watchmaker in West Berlin, Germany, displays the fourth clock he has constructed entirely out of such scrap material as wire, nails, cans, wood crates and assorted pieces of lumber. It is a replica of a timepiece he fashioned for prisoners of war at POW camps in North Ireland, England and Scotland during World War II. The clock, though crudely constructed, took two months to make, keeps perfect time.

BEAUTY AND THE BEACH—Lucious Corinne Calvet abandons herself to the sand at Malibu Beach, Calif., as the surf breaks into waves below her (or hadn't you noticed the waves yet?). The sultry, French-born film actress is resting up from her stint in "What Price Glory," a movie in which she recreates the role of Charmaine, made famous by Delores Del Rio.

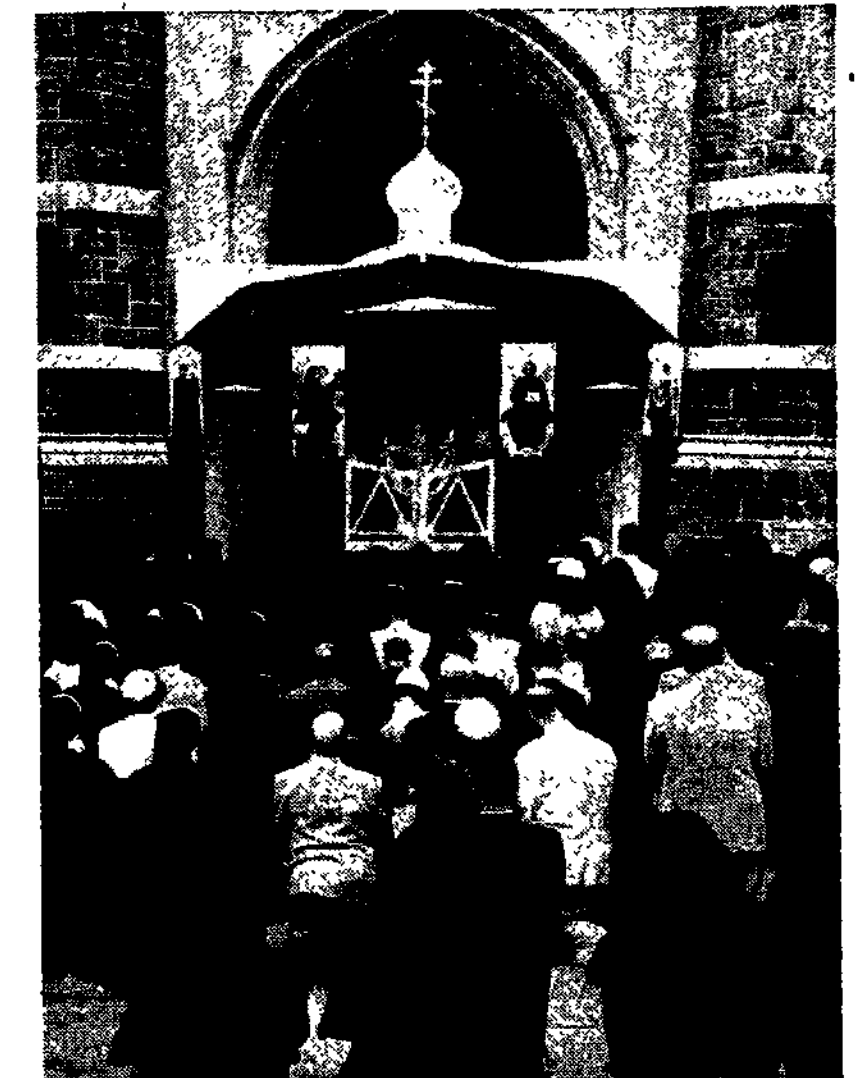

JACK OF ALL TRADES—A busy man indeed is Donald E. Delacey, a New Hope, Pa., barber who is also Justice of the Peace, Marriage and Dog Licensor, Notary Public, Assigner and Transferer of Deeds and Mortgages and almost anything else that might occur to him. Here the versatile tonsorial artist gives a haircut to a customer in his "open-air" shop on a lawn.

RIOT-PROOF PHOTOGRAPHS—Wire service cameramen Bill Furdum (left) and Warren Lee model the "violence resisting" outfits they borrowed from Tokyo police after several lensmen were roughed up while covering Communist riots. The suits were designed when the police suffered long casualty lists.

COCKTAIL COAT—A "swallow tail" coat for cocktails, designed by Alwyn-Camille, is modelled in Paris. Done in jet black velvet, with slim, elbow-length sleeves, the coat is teamed with a white taffeta gown that repeats the "swallow tail" pattern over a full chiffon skirt.

PRAYER FOR PEACE—A Russian version of the mass is performed at Fordham University in New York in an effort to promote world peace. The mass differs from the Roman Catholic version in that three priests simultaneously consecrate the bread and wine.

WARREN SPORTS BOOSTERS BUSY ON PLANS FOR LEIDIG TESTIMONIAL OCT. 11th

COACH OF THE CENTURY TO BE HONORED; LOUIE CARLSON ARRANGING REUNION FOR 1922

General Chairman Ray Reed's committee of members of the Sports Boosters Association met tonight to complete many of the plans for a testimonial banquet to be given in honor of J. B. Leidy, Warren football coach who stepped down from this position after 40 years.

Permission has been granted by the School Board for the use of city gym for this event, to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 11, in connection with the annual homecoming game, and the committee mailed letters, in a week or 10 days, to all men who won letters in Mr. Leidy's gym as coach, inviting them to attend. Some of the letters on which committee members are working delve 'way back into the past, but it is hoped

Through The Wind Tunnel

Harry Danas of the Cozy Corner, is one of the first to step forward with a hospitable glad-hand for the U. S. Army visitors due in Warren this coming weekend. "Free cokes for the Dixie Band!" says Harry even though his waitress is on vacation. Harry should get plenty of exercise!

A resident of Schanz street told Sparky Saylor a cute one. Two little boys, walking along the street, were heard discussing the possibility that it was named for Big Little Man Bobby Schanz!

Ted Berdine dropped by Beatty Field last night to watch the young hopefuls of Warren High at work. Says he liked the way Coach Fred Bell was handling things.

There'll be a lot of familiar faces at the Pennry station tonight and some 17 of these will embark on the evening train for Army induction. Many a dad gave up use of the family car last night as the prospective GI could visit friends and favorite haunts.

Razzy Gustafson is due home from Fort Knox, Ky., late tonight or tomorrow, on a furlough, which means the highway between Warren and North Warren will come in for some heavy use.

Warren's young and somewhat younger Republicans will show off on Friday to tell the boys in Harrisburg how things should be run.

If you want to learn how to make a bed family style, hospital style, Army style, Navy style or Marine Corps style, drop around at the YMCA tonight. The Jaycees are to place 125 cots, and their wives are to make them up, to sleep the Dixie Band which is due here late Thursday.

These boys from Camp Atterbury, who will parade for you at 6 p. m. Friday and play a concert for you at 8:15 p. m. at War Memorial Field, would enjoy breaking bread with you in your home. Set a couple extra places, add another piece of meat to the pot, and call Al Buerkle to make arrangements for your appreciative guest. You'll enjoy them as much as they will enjoy meeting you.

Abigail called Mr. Buerkle today and said she'd enjoy having "a whole parcel" of the soldiers at her farm home. See she can bed down a half dozen of 'em in the spare rooms, which have not been used since she had hunters last December, and can take care of "at least two dozen" in the sweet-smelling hay loft, with patchwork quilts to keep 'em warm. Mr. Buerkle is considering her request, wonders whether he dares ask her to promise to omit squash sandwiches from the menu! Then, too, Abigail is such a confirmed Pennsylvania Yankee that he doesn't know whether to run the risk of having the Battle of Appomattox fought all over again between Abigail and the Dixie Band.

While a group of area members of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers was meeting in the Blue & White yesterday noon, Col. Forest Cropp of Tionesta, was looking over one of the Nat Drake's "Information about Warren and Warren County" folders. Noting the quotation, "Where Living is a Pleasure," Col. Cropp cunningly asked Mr. Drake, "How about expenses?"

Twelve-year old Tom Casey was an excited little boy the other day when he captured a five-legged frog on the banks of the Conewango near his Akeley home.

The weatherman turned out to be a swell guy all yesterday, allowing area grid teams to start their three-week pre-season practice session on time.

Over on Beatty Field Coach Fred Bell, with assistance from Joe Massa, Joe Passaro, Homer Barr, Loyal Briggs and Norge Luvison, was busy putting the Dragons through their first drills.

And as usual, big interest in football is already being indicated by the large group of spectators who stopped along the bank of the field in their cars or crowded the sidelines of the field to try and get an idea of what the Blue & White has to offer this season.

Well, our friend Harry Danas is back at Cozy Corner once again, after spending a week's vacation in Philadelphia with relatives. We're just wondering if he'll still keep up the role of "cupid".

Harrison Has Good Support as Guiffre Nine Beats Emblem

Plenty of support was given pitcher Bob Harrison, when he hurled five-hit ball to rack up his 19th victory of the season and give Guiffre's Grocery a 13-5 Industrial League victory over Emblem Oil at the State Hospital last night. Harrison has been defeated only four times this season.

The win for Guiffre's keeps them still in the second-half race, but their chances of winning over the 4-0 record of Thomas Coupling is slim. With Guiffre's owner of the first-half title, these two teams will undoubtedly meet in the play-off.

In addition to his pitching performance last night, Harrison smacked three safeties in four trips to the plate to lead Guiffre's batting order along with Rich, who had three for five. Extra base hits were credited to Bill Massa, who slammed a triple, and Colosimo, a round tripper.

The victors will now play the Youngville Merchants, first-half champs, at 8 o'clock, Thursday evening at Jackson Field for the Midget League crown.

Little Nick Cronis, relieving Cummings on the mound, fanned 10 of 12 men he faced for the Sons of Italy. At the other end of the battery was R. Kane, while Nielson and Tremblay did the hurling and Jamieson the stopping for Barnhart & Davis.

PGA Tourney Opens At Shawnee Today

Shawnee-On-Deleware, Pa. (AP)—The Philadelphia District PGA tournament gets under way here today with Pat Tiso, Blue Dell, Pa., medal round winner, figured as the man to beat.

The Meadowlands C. C. pro won yesterday's medal play with a scorching, five-under-par 67 which established a new tournament record. The previous mark of 68 was set by Henry Williams of Kutztown, Pa., in 1950.

Rod Munday, last year's medal holder from York, Pa., had a disappointing 73 over the 6,686-yard Shawnee Inn and Country Club course.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★ Movie Stars Never Had This; So Wrestling Fan Clubs Grow

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Movies may be on the decline in more ways than one. Anyway the gals are finding a new channel for their adoration. This may be disquieting, but the Wrestling Fan Clubs Association of America has been formed. Parent bodies and chapters are springing up from here to Podunk for the glorification of this or that mat monster.

There are more than 200 clubs in the United States, and units and branches are mushrooming rapidly. Giving you a smooth idea, the Stanlee brothers have the most chapters and 30,000 members in this country and Canada. Each brother has his own mob, too. Mr. America Gene Stanlee is the big noise, but a Steve Stanlee Fan Club just started in Toronto with 1000 members.

Ray Gunkel's following has 11 chapters. The Roy Shure Strut Club has nine. They gave their tiger a dinner and a silver medalion in Dayton, O. Billy Darnell's Darnell Darlings whoop it up in Baltimore. Dr. Lee Grable's Grable-ettes emote in San Diego. Leo Garibaldi's Leo Lovettes love in Long Beach, Calif.

LOU THESEZ, the now generally recognized heavyweight champion, seems to be too straight to gain fan club stature, but there's a group for practically every other gaudy grunter—Antonio Rocca, Lord Carlton, the Smith Brothers, Papa Gino Garibaldi, Verne Gagne, Sinbad the Sailor Lou Kim, Yukon Eric and on down the line. Nor are the lady limb-twisters neglected. Cora Combs and others have strong regimentations.

Wrestling Fan Clubs Association of America membership certificates are in process. In the way of a business note, all clubs will be listed with National Wrestling Alliance members and affiliates. Promoters will set aside sections of their arenas for club members, so they may go nuts together.

Clubs have their own house organs, radio time, membership cards and buttons. The latter mostly are in the form of a statuette of the gladiator. An excellent suggestion is a cauliflower ear. This is bringing hero worship right down to the local level. I'm a Jungle Boy Joe Bertucci man myself. He's funniest.

EUB and Methodist Softball Teams To Open Title Series

At 8:30 o'clock on Beatty Field this evening, Bethel EUB and First Methodist will battle it out on a "best out of three" series for the YMCA-Church Softball League championship title.

Bethel entered into the playoffs as a result of winning the first-half with six victories and three losses. The First team acquired a similar record to take the second-half crown in a close finish.

There is still some debate whether or not the first game of the series playoff, which was won by Bethel, will be considered, having been called because of rain. The game was played enough innings to be called regulation but the losers refused to consider it the same because it was a playoff. However, in the league rules, no exception is made to this.

Carey Middlecoff Is Winner Over Burke Latest Giant Jolt Is 6-Day Suspension For Leo Durocher

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Kansas City #—Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, followed the playoff route to the $15,000 Kansas City Open golf title for the second consecutive time yesterday. He shot a 6-under-par 66—the best round of the tournament—to beat Jack Burke Jr. of Houston, Tex., by six strokes. The two wound up the regulation 72 holes Monday with 276 totals.

For yesterday's victory he pocketed $2,400 plus a share of the day's gate receipts paid by a crowd of 2,000. Burke's 72 brought him $1,800 in second-place prize money. He also shared in the gate receipts.

No Indications Of Dragon Strength as Practice Is Begun

The three-week pre-season practice session allowed Pennsylvania High Schools was launched yesterday and the Warren High Dragons were no exception. Under their new Coach Fred Bell, the local gridders were out on Beatty Field in full dress, being put through all the paces.

Now comes the question: "What do the Dragons' have?" Many ardent fans of the sport were over at the field yesterday to see for themselves, but found it is much too early to make any predictions.

When Coach Bell came to Warren he was greeted by only two lettermen, and has a big building job ahead of him before the season opens. The returnees are the hard running fullback, Toby Shea, who received a berth on the All-Northwestern Scholastic team last year, and end Dick Hegerty. Both are seniors this year, and Shea will be working for his third coveted "W".

The Bellmen will be playing a nine-game schedule this campaign, one less than last season, and therefore will get in an extra week of practice before the opener against Corry on War Memorial Field, Saturday, September 13. Kane High is the team that has been dropped from the schedule, but there will probably be two informal scrimmages between the Dragons and Wolves sometime this month in allowance with the UIAA rules.

5-2, and Batavia beat Wellsville at Batavia, 3-2.

Clarion Names New Coach for Football

Clarion, Pa. (AP)—Clarion State Teachers College named W. S. Tiffin today as football coach for one year.

Tiffin, director of athletics, succeeds Enton Kribbs who resigned a few weeks ago to accept the post of head basketball coach at Bucknell University.

Pre-season football practice for the teachers starts Sept. 8. Only eight lettermen will be back.

Officer Tells Milk Producers Price Is Held Under Control

A group of members of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers and their guests had the pleasure of hearing an impromptu talk by Henry Geisinger, head of Public Relations of the association, from Harrisburg, at a luncheon in the Cedar Room of the Blue and White, yesterday noon.

Mr. Geisinger, who has been in his present position for one year and is currently acting secretary of the association, centered his talk around milk prices and classification of milk as an inflationary item.

In his opening remarks Mr. Geisinger indicated the three things people know about milk: 1. It comes from cows; 2. It is good for them; and 3. It costs too much. Comparing the rise in milk costs since 1939 with the rise in meat costs, he pointed out that a quart of milk today would be 35 cents a quart instead of the present 24 cent price, and 45 cents as compared to coffee.

Considering this and the fact that milk today is better than in 1939, due to modern improvements, Mr. Geisinger considered the milk prices, which are controlled by the Milk Commission, as being well in line.

The local and area men present to hear Mr. Geisinger were George Frantz, Warren, and Col. Forrest Cropp, of Tionesta, both members of the association's board of directors; Dr. C. J. Frantz, president of the Warren County Dairy; Edward Walker and William R. Walker, of the Walker Creamery Products Co.; A. Clausman, Bradford Mills Co.; James Frantz, president of the Chamber of Commerce; and Nat Drake, secretary of the chamber.

Phalanx Fraternity Resumes Sessions

Resuming sessions after the idle months of June and July, members of the Alpha Chapter Phalanx Fraternity met in the YMCA last evening, with the Young Adult Conference the main item on the agenda of President Jack Updegraff, new boys' work secretary of the "Y" and second vice president of the state YAC, explained the conference theme, and informed the club that Ernest Kovac, famous lecturer, has been secured as the guest speaker.

Those who will be attending the conference, which is being held at Penn Hall in Chambersburg on September 6 and 7, are Gillette, Updegraff, Jack Brennan, and Allen Anderson. The latter was present at Chambersburg last year along with Deane Swanson, now serving in the Armed Forces.

Other business at last evening's session included the election of Charles VerMilyea as treasurer, to replace John Wood, who will be leaving for school the first of September.

CAKE BAKING CONTEST TO FEATURE MEETING

Russell—A cake-baking contest has been arranged as one of the features of the annual meeting of the Russell GLEF, to be held Thursday evening in the Ackley Grange Hall.

There will be two classifications, with prizes for light and dark cakes, winners to be selected by competent judges. Following the business session, the cakes will be served, along with ice cream.

This annual session is designated as a family affair, with movies downstairs for the children while the adults are attending the business meeting.

To conclude the evening, there will be a social time, with contests and fun for all ages under the capable direction of Theodore Fox.

REMOVES OBSTACLE TO PIPING TELEVISION

Borough Council did its best to overcome what may be the last obstacle in the path of Joe Hardy in piping television into Warren when it met in special session, Monday afternoon, and resolved that it has no objection to the plan, providing he uses the poles of the Bell Telephone Company and complies with the company's regulations in regard to installation and maintenance.

While Council pointed out that it has no legal right to grant a franchise, it has no objection to Hardy placing wires along and over borough streets if he uses the Bell poles and conforms with that firm's regulations.

On Sept. 7, the group will go to Cleveland to see the doubleheader between the Indians and St. Louis Browns. New drills and field movements are being practiced for the annual appearance in the Cleveland stadium. The unit is now open to accept 20 new members between the ages of 10 and 17.

AUTOMOBILE PRICES

Beginning Saturday, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, dealers may calculate their own retail selling prices for new automobiles. It may lead to a slight increase. The Office of Price Stabilization, announcing yesterday it was abandoning dollars and cents ceilings on new cars sold to the public, estimated it might mean about a 1 per cent boost in prices.

HELD AFTER ACCIDENT

John L. Hoffman of Tionesta was arrested by Pleasantville Constable Leo Schnell about 9:30 last night on a charge of drunken driving after Hoffman plowed his car into a culvert near that borough. Hoffman smashed into a culvert just west of Pleasantville, demolishing the front end of the car. Constable Schnell brought him to the Tionesta jail where he spent the night. His wrecked car was towed to Jones Brothers garage.

BABY IS CRITICAL

Little Linda Johnson, 13 months, run over Sunday by a car, remained on the critical list at WCA Hospital late last night. The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson of 296 Barrows Street, Jamestown, received a punctured right lung when one wheel of an automobile driven by her grandfather, Arthur J. Johnson of 144 Thayer street, passed over her chest. The accident happened in the driveway of the elder Johnson's home.

RELIEF EXPENDITURES

Monthly expenditures for public assistance, which have been declining in Pennsylvania for two years, increased by $510,000 during July, according to the Department of Public Assistance in Harrisburg. The increase, said the department, was caused by the rise in unemployment due to the late steel strike. Inasmuch as most of the persons added to the assistance rolls because of the strike have returned to work, it is expected that monthly costs will resume their downward trend during August. General assistance, aid to dependent children and old-age assistance comprise about 70% of the total cost, with administration taking about 12%.

EMERGENCIES TREATED

Lee Hendrickson, 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hendrickson, 131 Russell street, was rushed to Warren General Hospital yesterday shortly before noon when it was discovered that the youngster had swallowed a quantity of paint thinner. He was treated and admitted for observation, and hospital authorities this morning report his condition as good. Gretchen Niver, 1203 Conewango avenue, was treated for a laceration of the left index finger, sustained from a sickle. She was discharged after suturing. Philip Cerra, 14, 107 N. South street, was treated for a small laceration of the left wrist, sustained on a broken fish bowl. He was discharged after treatment.

COMMUNITY PARK

The New York and Pennsylvania Co. Community Park located in the Wolf Run area of Elk County opened Saturday. For the use of residents of Johnsonburg, and paper mill employees and their guests, the 16 acre park will provide picnic and recreational facilities in one of the most beautiful forest areas in Pennsylvania. The park will be open from 12 noon to 10 p. m. each day of the week until September 28. Located off U. S. Highway 219 six miles north of Johnsonburg, work on the park was begun early in April and a new road was built into the area and work was pressed on the remodeling of the Lodge building which will be available to employees for meetings and parties. A ball field has been built and numerous fireplaces are located throughout the area.

BOY KILLS BROTHER

A six-year-old East Otto boy accidentally shot and killed his older brother last night while they were "hunting" birds on their Swamp Road farm. Richard Hart, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hart, died en route to Tri-County Hospital, Gowanda. The shooting occurred at 7:45 p. m. According to Sheriff Morgan L. Siegel, the two boys had been shooting birds with a .22 calibre rifle on their farm when Richard went into a hen house. As he stepped from the door, his brother, Donald, fired at a bird, the bullet striking Richard in the back of his head. The victim was rushed to the hospital by the East Otto Volunteer Fire Department ambulance. Dr. E. E. Heier, of Cattaraugus, was called to the scene. Coroner William McDuffy, of Olean, said he would issue a certificate of accidental death.

VERDICT IS SUICIDE

Mrs. Jeannette Dye, 49, Sandy Lake, who retired from politics in 1950 after three terms in the State House as Representative from Mercer County, died at home Sunday, a victim of suicide, Deputy Coroner Donald W. Wonsettier of Mercer County reported. She was the wife of Dr. Ralph Dye, past president of the State and National Associations of Chiropractors, who was on a business trip to Memphis, Tenn., at the time. Dr. Wonsettier gave this account of the case: Mrs. Dye was found unconscious from carbon monoxide in the garage of her home early

WESTPORT LANDING

By Homer Hatten

Chapter Two

"YOU won't kill anybody here, Regan," Dupre said easily. His arm moved toward his wife in a half-negligent gesture. "Look," he said simply.

Alert for treachery, Regan's eyes shot a sharp, glancing look at Sally Dupre, widened in disbelief. In her a million-yard stare, a wide-bore, double-barreled deringer, pointing straight at Regan's heart.

She smiled at him, the double muzzles of the gun implacable in their certain promise of sudden death. "Perhaps we've all been a little too hasty, Mr. Regan," she said softly. "Would you like to throw your knife out there on the gallery, through the door, and start all over again?"

He nodded, slowly, reluctantly, accepting a fact that could not be evaded. With a motion that was half carelessness and half insolence he tossed the knife away with a flip of his wrist.

"All right," he said slowly. "You've won this hand. You've got the gun. But I've got the map. And as far as I'm concerned, you can rot before you'll touch that money!"

Dupre moved his chair aside, smiling, assured, completely at ease as he got to his feet. "Before we get started, Regan," he said softly, "you'll beg us to take the map and go get the money."

Suddenly, without warning, he struck Regan twice across the mouth, smiling as the bright blood trickled down Regan's chin.

"Sit down!" he said harshly. "Get back in your chair!"

The unwavering muzzles of the gun enforced his demand, and Regan eased himself into the chair, his eyes alert and watchful, but with a black shadow of fear beginning to build itself up behind him.

Dupre was slow and methodical. His own silken stock bound Regan's hands behind him, back of the chair. Two torn strips of curtain lashed his feet to the rungs, and the golden lover's knot that had been a certain tieback served admirably as a gag.

Through it all Regan sat immobile, silent, but when Dupre set the six flaming candles of the heavy, soft-glaming candelabra a scant three inches beneath his bound finger tips he screamed in agony as the hot flames swept up his wrist, his arm, his chest, his face, eating away at the hard bone and the soft skin and the taut tendons that were his hands.

With each scream Dupre struck him across the face, turning it into a bleeding, broken mass of flesh and scattered bone that was scarcely human. Through it all

Sunday. Neighbors investigated after seeing lights burning at the home and found her sitting in her automobile, the motor of which was running. She was revived only to be found dead in her home later from a form of ant poison. She is understood to have been ill since suffering a nervous breakdown some months ago.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Two applications were made for marriage licenses at the Court House yesterday by Kenneth Eugene Peters and Dorothy Joan Summers, both of Sagertown; and by Stanley Way Brown and Cora E. Ellison, both of Lawrenceville.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Darling, 27 Buchanan street, have returned from State College, where they were called over the weekend by the illness of the latter's brother, W. G. Neilly, formerly of Warren. Friends will be pleased to know that Mr. Neilly, a patient in Centre County Hospital at Bellefonte, is reported showing some slight improvement. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eberle, Prospect street, have also returned after spending nearly two weeks with the latter's sister, Mrs. Neilly and family.

FIRE SCHOOL

There was a small attendance at the civil defense fire school, which met for its first session at Central Fire Station last evening with Roy Horton of Kane, as instructor. However, Mr. Horton outlined the preliminary principles of fire fighting, and next week's

THE BURGESS AND TOWN COUNCIL OF THE BOROUGH OF WARREN

Borough Secretary.

"The map! Where is the map?" snarled Dupre.

rose the high, wailing intensity of Regan's anguished screams.

Then, suddenly, the flame was gone. Through the crimson fog of Dupre's voice came faintly, faintly to Regan's ears.

"You said we'd need a man to guide us, and there's a man downstairs at the bar who can do it. If you're ready to talk to him—I'll have him come up. If you aren't, we'll let you taste the fire again."

Regan's body was a harsh, convex bow, straining against its bonds, half mad with agony. Great drops of sweat stood out on his forehead, and through the muffling folds of the golden gag came the deep, half-sobbing groans of an animal trapped, tortured, and defeated.

"Hell talk," Dupre said scornfully. "Hell talk—with perhaps a touch of the candles now and again to jog his memory. Go down and tell Blaine Shepley we want to see him. He'll be at the bar. One of the boys will get him for you."

Her white shoulders gleaming in the candlelight and her crisp petticoats whispering softly as she walked, Sally Dupre moved gracefully across the room and through the doorway.

SHE was proud of this house, for she had literally conjured it up from despair with only her own wit and her woman's wiles to help her. Three years ago she had not been Sally Dupre, the mistress of a gambling house above the Memphis levee, but Sally de Neyrac, safe, secure, and protected in her father's house, with all the beaux and gallants of New Orleans at her feet.

But that was before the dark-faced figure of Andre Dupre came into her life. Dupre, the cold-eyed, slim-bodied gambling man who had come to New Orleans in search of gold from cards or dice, and won instead the heart of the fabulously lovely Sally de Neyrac.

It was a winning that almost cost him his life, for the Neyrac, a fitful and vigorous action to nip the life in the bud. Confronting him in a shadowed street, Rene de Neyrac had promised to shoot him on sight if he were in New Orleans more than twelve more hours.

No fool, Dupre had left New Orleans for Havana that night, but Sally de Neyrac was with him. And before the Caribbean Queen had reached the blue waters of the Gulf, its master had pronounced them man and wife.

For Sally, Havana had been a mad tool, a mad, mad, mad tool during the first enchanted months by her own dream-wrapped ecstasy. But Dupre was not a man who wore well. Beneath his suave exterior were dark abysses of anger and faithlessness and cruelty. Before the year was out, the madness that had possessed her like a demon was gone, and in its place was only the bitter knowledge that she had burned her bridges behind her for a man who was only a empty facade, a man she could scarcely tolerate and would never love.

They left Havana, and the second year was twelve months of frustration and indignity such as Sally had never known. Like vagrants, they wandered up and down the Mississippi, drifting from Natchez to Vicksburg, upriver to the new town of St. Louis, downstream again to Memphis, with Andre's slim fingers always turning the cards or flipping the dice in the gambling houses and bordellos of the raw river towns.

He was at home there, relaxed, confident, and at ease, but to Sally it was a nightmare without beginning or end, a endless succession of days and nights with no meaning, no hope, and no integrity. She had never known that men and women lived like this—shabby, aimless, rootless as leaves in the wind, unbound by the past, without plans or courage to face the future, barren of security and pride and self-respect.

Golf Tourney Goes Into Second Round

Seattle (P) — The men's National Amateur Golf championship, the ranks stripped of its last two champions, swung into the second round of match play today with the remaining challengers crowding into the spotlight.

Belted to the sidelines in the day's two most startling upsets were the defending champion, Billy Maxwell from Odessa, Tex., and the 1950 kingpin of the nation's amateurs, Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y.

Dusk was settling over the Seattle Country Club's green acres when the familiar "unknown," Ira D. Gruber, a fine hitting, calm young man from Pottstown, Pa., disposed of Maxwell on the 21st hole.

LOOKING AHEAD... (Continued from yesterday)

Under the surface, despite pending political decisions and possible economic changes, lies the permanent investment fact that you, and every other investor, must face at all times the fundamental desire to—

1. Reduce risks to your capital.
2. Make your investment income more certain of continuance...
3. Benefit from sound opportunities for capital growth.

TWENTY YEARS AGO a new type of service was offered to the public which aimed at meeting these fundamental investment requirements of all investors, both large and small.

This was the Mutual Investment Trust Fund, a supervisory service providing the opportunity of buying many of the leading American securities in a group plan under one certificate which is constantly supervised with the aim of maintaining the income and capital values despite changing conditions.

Continued tomorrow.

Number Receiving Aid in State Still Shows an Increase

The number of persons receiving public assistance in Pennsylvania continued to rise during the last half of July as a net increase of 3,234 persons boosted the total on the rolls to 262,657. The increase was the net result of adding 20,441 persons to the rolls and removing only 7,707.

The effects of the steel strike were directly responsible for the upward movement in the number of assistance recipients. General assistance, the type of aid which primarily reflects changes in employment conditions, accounted for the major portion of the increase, rising by 12,575 persons. Aid to dependent children increased by 73 persons, Aid to Disabled by 15, and Blind Pensions by 53. Old-age assistance, on the other hand, decreased by 182 persons.

Although changes in the assistance rolls from the beginning of the strike to the end of July resulted in a net increase of nearly 9,000 persons or approximately 3%, the rise was not state-wide, but was confined to 25 counties, in most of which steel and soft coal production are the dominant industries. Assistance rolls in these 25 counties increased by 26,193 persons, or 28.1%, during the past two months. In contrast, the rolls

Health Certificates Must Be Obtained To Exhibit Animals

Harrisburg.—Livestock breeders who plan to exhibit animals at one or more of the 108 county and community fairs to be held this summer and fall in Pennsylvania are reminded that regulations health certificates must be obtained, showing that their animals meet minimum health requirements.

Dr. H. R. Milo, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, State Department of Agriculture, declares these precautions are taken to prevent possible spread of communicable diseases to other animals. Fair officials should consult their local county agents who will advise them of standard equipment, he added.

All entries in cattle shows must be accompanied by health certificates issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, the bureau head declared. These certificates indicate that the cattle are free from bovine tuberculosis, Brucellosis or a similar ailment. Examinations are to be made by an accredited veterinarian within 60 days of the show.

Sheep, goats and horses exhibited at any fair or livestock show must be accompanied by a certificate issued by a veterinarian, showing that the animal has no evidence of a transmissible disease. The same regulations apply to livestock exhibited at the Pennsylvania Farm Show except that hogs must be inoculated against hog cholera, Dr. Milo said.

The minimum health rules and regulations for the showing or sale of cattle in Pennsylvania were written by the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association in a joint session with representatives of the various beef and dairy cattle associations and approved by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Animal Industry.

Law Finally Unhoods Post-War Ku Klux Klan

By HENRY LEASANE
NEA Special Correspondent

Raleigh, N. C.—(NEA)—Figuratively—if not literally—the post-World War II Ku Klux Klan has taken its last ride.

There is the possibility that the pattern of masked terrorism may crop up somewhere else at another time, but a knockout blow has been dealt the hooded order by wholesale arrests, indictments and road sentences—with probably more still to come—in the Southeastern corner of North Carolina.

"Finis" has been written to the Klan's activities in the Carolinas by the sentencing of Imperial Wizard Thomas L. Hamilton, pudgy, bespectacled former grocer of Leesville, S. C., to four years in prison—the maximum sentence possible under a conspiracy charge to which he pleaded guilty.

Scores of other Klansmen face sentences of from one to two years. They grew out of the largest mass trials in North Carolina history following a two-year reign of terror by Klansmen.

In the last few years every South Atlantic state has had its Klan problem, although the Klan-type violence has been confined to a few relatively small areas.

Georgia, where both the post-World War I and the post-World War II Klans were spawned atop Stone Mountain, was the first state where the current Klan became active immediately after the war. The movement there, however, has gradually been eliminated.

In the summer of 1949 a wave of floggings, cross-burnings and masked terrorism struck the area surrounding Birmingham, Ala. This was ended by a counter-wave of public indignation, wholesale arrests and quick passage of an anti-mask law by the Alabama legislature which was in session then. Since then three other Southern states—Florida, Georgia and South Carolina—have passed similar anti-Klan laws.

IMPERIAL WIZARD Thomas L. Hamilton got four-year sentence when law unhooded him.

The first break came a few months ago when the Federal Bureau of Investigation rounded up a number of alleged Klansmen accused of taking a white man and woman across the state line into South Carolina and flogging them. A few weeks later the Columbus county sheriff, aided by state agents, arrested a number of other Klansmen in another flogging case.

In the Federal case, tried at Wilmington, Judge Don Gilliam sentenced six defendants to prison, put four others on probation and freed another. One, the "exalted cyclops" of a klavern and a township constable at the same time, was sentenced to five years—to start at the end of a two-year sentence in an earlier state case.

Later wholesale arrests, a round hundred, including Hamilton, North Carolina agents went across the state line to nab him on a conspiracy charge. Hamilton for the last few years has lived in Leesville, a small town between

ON GEORGIA'S STONE MOUNTAIN, spawning ground of the KKK, an elderly Negro peers nervously at a robed Klansman on hand for a mass ceremony in 1949. Since then Georgia and three other Southern states have cracked down on the Klan.

Columbia, S. C., and Augusta, Ga. The state of North Carolina charged that by his activities in Columbus county he set in motion acts of violence and terrorism. Hamilton surrendered and pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the flogging of a Negro woman.

The 45-year-old Hamilton's so-called "Association of Carolinas Klans" first broke into the headlines in 1950 when Klansmen raided a Negro night club near Myrtle Beach, S. C., adjacent to Columbus county. A gunfight ensued and in the melee a Klansman who wore his police uniform under his robe was fatally wound-

KNOW YOUR STATE

Prepared for the Times-Mirror by the State Planning Board, Department of Commerce.

Evidence that the progress made by Pennsylvania in the post-war years has exceeded that in other industrial states, is afforded by the recently issued Annual Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Since this Report deals with the unpleasant subject of taxes collected, it also shows how dramatically Pennsylvania's Federal tax bill has risen in recent years.

In individual income taxes, the United States collected from Pennsylvania in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, $2,046,863,577 and, in addition, $21,326,768 for unemployment insurance. This does not include the tax on corporate income and profits which totaled $1,101,995,224, nor miscellaneous internal revenue collected in Pennsylvania totaling $716,284,861.

The Internal Revenue collections of the Federal government from Pennsylvania industry and its citizens in the last fiscal year thus amounted to $3,886,470,430, an increase of 31.1% over the previous year.

The Federal taxes collected from Pennsylvania citizens and

In 1940 the total receipts of the Federal Treasury from personal and corporate income and profits taxes in all of the states and territories was $2,125,000,000, one billion dollars less than the amount collected in Pennsylvania alone in 1951.

Since payroll withholding taxes are an evidence of income received by the State's workers, it is interesting to note that the increase in withholding taxes paid by Pennsylvanians in 1951 over the preceding year was 37.3%, a higher percentage increase than that recorded in
